WILL NAME SUCCESSOR TO SENATOR TRINKLE

State Committee to Choose Democratic Electoral-Large From Virginia This Week.

The State Democratic Committee probably will name a successor to Senator Trinkle this week at its headquarters in the Merchants Hotel to name an electoral-large from Virginia to succeed Senator E. Lee Trinkle, of Wythe, who resigned the honor bestowed upon him at the Roanoke convention to accept the Democratic nomination to Congress from the Ninth District. Samuel L. Kelley, of Richmond, is the other electoral-large.

While no date has been definitely fixed upon, J. H. Brennan, secretary to the committee, said yesterday that it is practically certain that Chairman Horner A. James will issue the call for a meeting within the next few days. Other matters also will come before the committee at that time.

There has been no active canvass for the position made vacant by the resignation of Senator Trinkle. The name of James P. Wood, of Roanoke, who was the third man in the race at the State convention, has been frequently mentioned as the logical one. Many Democrats, however, favor the selection of another man from the Ninth District.

The political situation in the State, in its every aspect, will be reviewed by the committee at this meeting and suggestions thrown out for the guidance of Chairman James. Special thought will be given the situation in the Ninth District. Democrats believe they have better chances of winning this year than they have had in many years, and the state will be left unturned to make the victory as complete as possible.

Chairman James is expected to name within a short time the Democrats whom he will send into the Ninth to help in the fight. Both Senator Martin and Senator Swanson, it is understood, have offered to render whatever assistance they can.

INTERFERING WITH WOMEN

Charles Thomas Says He Has No Recollection of Disorderly Conduct Charged.

Charles Thomas, the man arrested Saturday afternoon on Ninth Street by Policemen Lee on a charge of being disorderly and interfering with women on the street, was fined $25 and costs in the Police Court yesterday. Thomas, who is a native of Caroline County, but who has been working at a sawmill near Glen Allen recently, claimed that he was drunk at the time of his arrest and that he knew nothing of the circumstances. Policeman Lee testified that the man had spoken to several women near Ninth and Broad Streets before he was arrested.

RETIRED POLICEMAN FOUND DEAD IN BED

Archer Thomas Walton, Formerly Well-Known Officer, Found Dead in His Home.

Archer Thomas Walton, one of the oldest and best-known men on the police force at the time of his retirement about a year ago, was found dead in his bed at 1014 West Clay Street early yesterday morning. He had been complaining Sunday night and his wife had treated him for what was thought to be slight indisposition. Heart disease was given as the cause of his death.

The funeral will be conducted from St. Mark's Episcopal Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Walton became a member of the police force in July, 1870, and was retired because of physical disability after forty-five years of active service. In July, 1915, he celebrated his eightieth birthday last Thursday. He was married twice by all of his superior officers and had made friends during his police career as a result of his policy of warning offenders first and to resort to arresting them only after warnings had failed. He was having served in the Confederate Cavalry under General J. E. B. Stuart.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Louis A. of Manila, P. I.; Thomas J. of Richmond, and three granddaughters, to Joseph H. Greenhaw. The purchase price is said to have been $75,000, a deed of trust having been given for $14,000 of this amount. Greenhaw, in turn, sold to Davis Brothers three lots of land, two on Taylor Street and one on Chaffin Street, which were valued at $25,000.

Greenhaw, in turn, sold to Davis Brothers three lots of land, two on Taylor Street and one on Chaffin Street, which were valued at $25,000.

PLANS BEING PREPARED FOR ENLARGED HOSPITAL

Work to Start Soon on Negro Building and Contagious Wards at Memorial.

FUND ON HAND NOW $75,000

Campaign Results in Pledges for $250,000, to Be Paid in Four Installments as Work on New Buildings Progresses.

Out of a total of $250,000 definitely promised, a sum of $75,000 has been taken in as part payment for the erection of a negro hospital, the Dooley Pavilion, as one section will be known, and the nurses' home as adjuncts to the greater Memorial Hospital. Plans for the construction of the negro hospital and the nurses' home are practically complete, and the occupants of houses on Marshall Street and Broad Street, which have been purchased as sites for the new buildings, have received orders to vacate their premises by October 1. The plans are in the hands of the firm of Noland & Baskerville, and are soon to be submitted for approval by Building Inspector Butler.

All property on Marshall Street, between College Alley and the alley in the rear of the Retreat for the Sick has been purchased for the erection of the negro hospital, and the two properties next to Monumental Episcopal Church, on Broad Street, have been purchased for the erection of the nurses' home.

The negro hospital will be six stories high. A story and a half will be devoted entirely to operating rooms. On the ground floor will be located the general ward and an emergency ward, which will be entered from the street level. Here, too, will be located the room for the admission of patients and facilities for the disinfection of the clothing of patients brought in. The hospital will be complete in every way. It will be thoroughly equipped with all the appliances and facilities known to medicine and surgery, having its own pharmacy, X-ray room, photographic outfit and other conveniences necessary for modern practice.

NURSES' HOME COMPLETE BUILDING

The nurses' home, to be situated on Broad Street, will be a modern building five stories high, with rooms enough for 100 nurses. It will be equipped with library, sitting and recreation rooms, class rooms and all the conveniences necessary for the operation and conduct of a home-like institution.

The Dooley Pavilion, so named in honor of Major James H. Dooley, who contributed $40,000 to the general fund, will care for contagious diseases, the necessity for such a pavilion, having been strongly urged when the campaign was undertaken. Plans for this building will soon be completed.

First installment of funds received has been received. The first installment fell due on July 1, and the others are due at three-month intervals thereafter. Superintendent Frederic B. Moleck, of Memorial Hospital, is satisfied that complete payment will be made.

COMPLAINT NOT RECEIVED

Mayor Has No Word From Beveridge
As to Alleged Abuse of Negro by Policeman.

Mayor George Ainslie said last night that he had received no complaint from W. H. Beveridge, Jr., of 507 West Clay Street, against Police Officer T. J. Maxey, for his alleged treatment of a negro prisoner arrested on the North side. Maxey arrested William Settles, colored, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Settles is alleged to have been abusive and attempted to strike the policeman. A high and tumble fight ensued and Settles is now in the Virginia Hospital, suffering from what doctors describe as three scalp wounds. He will face the additional charge of resisting arrest when he is able to go to trial. Mayor Beveridge, a witness of the arrest, announced yesterday that he will file a complaint in regard to the officer's treatment of the negro.

HENRIK TO CONTINUE CAMPAIGN ON SPEEDERS

More Than Fifty Arrests Have Recently
Been Made on Thoroughfares Leading From City.

Chief of Police T. Wilson Seay, of Henrico County, will report to the Board of Supervisors at its regular monthly meeting this morning the results of the recent campaign against excessive speeding of automobiles in Henrico County, and will ask the board to allow the police authorities to continue their work in this regard. Both Chief Seay and Sheriff W. Wells, Seay said yesterday that they were determined to force automobilists to operate their machines within the limit prescribed by the county ordinance.

More than fifty arrests have been made for speeding along the Cary Street Road to the Country Club of Virginia, the Williamsburg Road, and other popular thoroughfares near the city in the past few days. Under an act of the last Legislature, by which Henrico County was allowed to impose fines in its own behalf, all moneys collected from this source go into the treasury of the county. It is understood that nearly $500 has been collected from automobilists recently.

The Board of Supervisors is assisting the police in efforts to enforce the law against speeding, and has authorized the authorities to hire an automobile which is being used to run down those violating the ordinance.

Case Continued Indefinitely.

At the instance of the man's employers, Justice Griggs yesterday decided to continue indefinitely the charge of pocket-picking which had been brought against M. L. Carnell by Detective Sergeant Kellam and Policeman Crafton.

It was shown that Carnell has an ill wife and several children dependent upon him and that he had had a good name until he got into the difficulty which led to his arrest Saturday night.

JOYOUS CELEBRATION FEATURES LABOR DAY

Crowd of 15,000 People Gathers at Forest Hill Park for All-Day Outing.

ATHLETIC CONTESTS ENJOYED

Prize for Largest Family Goes to Mr.
and Mrs. Jackson, of Chesterfield.
Mr. and Mrs. Tyree Oldest Married Couple.

At least 15,000 people celebrated Labor Day in Forest Hill Park yesterday, under the direction of the Central Trades and Labor Council. Contests for generous prizes entertained many, and the others spent their time strolling along the numerous feed and sun shops of the park and in quietly strolling around in the shade.

Ideal weather was the feature of the day. Even at midday the heat was not oppressive. People attracted to the celebration by the early morning promise of the day had no cause for regret. Sunday clothes came through without getting rained on and delicate combed hair survived the sun without receiving a coat of tan.

From all parts of Richmond and from far out into the country people flocked to the park. The larger part of them stayed till the end of the festivities last night, but many others paid brief visits. The grounds were crowded. People collected in the greatest density around the various amusement stands near the entrance. The shaded path led along the brook was almost so thronged with strollers as almost to lose claim to being called Lovers' Lane.

AMUSEMENT DEVICES ENTERTAIN VISITORS

All the stock amusement devices of the park were running at capacity. Children and adults again on the merry-go-round, and large crowds kept the roller-coaster rolling its fastest. A fortune-teller displayed his occult wisdom, and the throwers of rag dice, with their boxes of numbers, stood in long lines. Refreshments were distributed about the grounds disposed of enormous quantities of their wares.

A committee from the Equal Suffrage League attended the Labor Day celebration. Miss Mae Schall made a brief address. Suffrage literature was distributed and many membership cards signed.

Beginning about noon the contests entertained a considerable part of the people till nearly dark. Valuable prizes were given by Richmond business men, rewarded the swift, the skillful or the lucky. The prizes consisted of such articles as movie tickets, fancy vests, chairs, slippers, jewelry and umbrellas.

The award for the largest family present went to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, of Chesterfield County, who brought eight children to the celebration. The married couple who had lived together the longest were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tyree, who had passed fifty-five years since their wedding day.

Other prize winners were as follows:

Hundred-yard race for men—Roy Taylor.

Race for women—Miss Louise Starkey.

Race for boys—Pearl Brewster.

Race for girls—Gwen Kohn.

Wheelbarrow race—Charles Pace and Clarence Pace.

Apple-eating contest—Owen Kahn.

MILITIAMAN FINED

Private Brooks Is Convicted of Disorderly Conduct on Ground and Main Street Car.

John Brooks, private in Battery B, Virginia Field, private of Norfolk, was fined $20 and costs in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of being disorderly on a Broad and Main Street car. The charge against another private in the organization, A. J. Jordan, was dropped when the police in the discharge of their duty, was dismissed.

Brooks and Jordan, with several other soldiers, boarded the car Saturday night on their way to the camp. Conductor Percy Newman found that their transfers were not good and an argument developed. When Newman left the car at Seventh and Broad Streets to call a policeman Brooks is said to have leveled a stick and a street fight began. Newman is said to have drawn his black-jack and attempted to strike Brooks.

Policemen Lee, Boleau and Wuest arrived shortly and arrested the militiamen. Jordan testified yesterday that his participation had consisted in the use of the stick and that Newman prevented from striking Brooks with the weapon.

Captain Keas, of Battery B, who is a lawyer in civil life, represented the soldiers yesterday in court. He paid Brooks's fine.

ARMOR-PLATE HEARING SET FOR SEPTEMBER 13

Senator Martin Notifies Committees
That Only Cities Which File Briefs
Will Be Considered.

RICHMOND BRIEF IS READY

Statement of Claims of Richmond as Location for Government Plant Is Prepared by Governor George J.
Seay, of Reserve Bank.

According to information received yesterday by Mayor Ainslie from Senator Thomas S. Martin briefs from those cities which are applying for the $11,000,000 armor-plate plant recently authorized by congressional appropriation must be filed with the Secretary of the Navy not later than September 13.

When the question of the construction and establishment of such a plant was first broached and before it had formally been presented before Congress, a committee from the Richmond Chamber of Commerce went to Washington and won the promise of support for the city. The committee's brief, and it is suggested that the Chamber of Commerce took action at that time was not given, so that the campaign of preparedness undertaken by Richmond should not be made known to other cities expected to make bids.

The Richmond Chamber of Commerce, acting in conjunction with committees from the City Council and the Administrative Board, has already prepared its brief, and it has suggested that the city donate a site on the Chesterfield side of the James River, which is deemed to be admirably situated and suited for the project. At the time that this proposal was made Chairman John C. Leary, of the Administrative Board, pointed out that the city charter would have to be changed before the city could donate property for the governmental concern. He stated, however, that he was much in sympathy with the movement, and suggested that other means be made to acquire property so that it might be dedicated to the Federal government.

BRIEF PREPARED BY GOVERNOR GEORGE J. SEAY

Governor George Seay, of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank, was delegated to prepare the brief, he having written the brief in behalf of the selection of Richmond as a site for the Federal reserve bank. In his letter to Mayor Ainslie Senator Martin stated that on September 13 a hearing of all applicants will be held at the office of the Secretary of the Navy, but that none would be heard who had not first submitted a claim in the form of a brief.

"I shall be only too glad," Senator Martin wrote, "to do everything in my power to see that the claims of your city are thoroughly investigated and considered in that connection."

Norfolk has made application for the establishment of the plant there, but Richmond was the first of all the cities now applying to take action in the matter.

The committee named from the City Council to co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in having the armor-plate plant erected in Richmond includes President W. H. Adams, of the Board of Aldermen; President R. Lee Peters, of the Common Council; Colonel Barton H. Grundy and John W. Moore, of the Board of Aldermen; and Charles A. Seaton, of the lower branch. The committee appointed by Chairman Hirschberg, of the Administrative Board, consists of Commissioners Carlton McCarthy and Graham R. Hobson.

JENKINS CHILD HAS INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Moved to Contagious Pavilion at City Home From Home on Church Hill.

STRICT QUARANTINE ORDERED

Suspicious Case Is Under Observation
on St. James Street—Quarantine
Is Continued on South Fourth, Between Cary and Canal Streets.

Another sporadic case of infantile paralysis developed yesterday at 1119 North Twenty-fourth Street, where Raymond Jenkins, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jenkins, was found to be a victim of the disease. The child was ordered moved to one of the contagious pavilions at the City Home, where he will be given every attention by a trained nurse.

The case was reported to the Health Department late yesterday afternoon as being of a suspicious character and the patient was at once visited by Dr. E. C. Levy, Chief Health Officer, and Dr. H. S. Stevens, medical inspector. It was pronounced poliomyelitis, but of a mild type.

Because there was only one other child in the house, a month-old infant, the mother was not taken to the City Home, but allowed to remain at her home. Dr. Levy ordered the customary quarantine restrictions.

Where the boy contracted the disease is not known. He had not been out of the city, nor recently thrown with any gatherings of children. No connection whatsoever with the epidemic in the North could be established. He became ill on last Thursday, and on Sunday paralysis in the leg became evident. The lack of movement was more pronounced yesterday, according to Dr. Levy.

SUSPICIOUS CASE NOTED ON ST. JAMES STREET

Another suspicious case was also brought to the attention of the health authorities yesterday. A three-year-old negro girl, Zippora Taylor, living with her parents, at 917 St. James Street, was found to be paralyzed in the right leg. It was not diagnosed as infantile paralysis, and will be carefully watched for developments. Not caring to take any chances, the house was ordered quarantined by the authorities.

The quarantine on South Fourth Street, between Cary and Canal Streets, is still in force, forty children in twenty-two houses having been placed under restriction last week. Dr. Levy said last night that this quarantine would not be lifted until the expiration of two weeks. It resulted from the development of the disease in little Adeline Jacobini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Jacobini, of 119 South Fourth Street. Her affliction, which caused her death within a few hours, was of the epidemic type.

BRIDGE PETITION GOES TO COUNCIL TO-NIGHT

Many Property Owners Ask Early Construction of Permanent In-Town
Crossing Over River.

Petitions signed by more than 1,500 residents and property owners of the Southside asking for the early construction of a bridge from Laurel Street to Cowardin Avenue, connecting the Northside and the Southside, will be read at the regular meeting of the Common Council to-night by Councilman Carter C. Jones, of Madison Ward. Mr. Jones will also introduce a resolution providing for the construction of the bridge.

The petitions were secured through the efforts of the Union League of South Richmond, which organized several months ago for the expressed purpose of securing the construction of this bridge. The organization has a large membership, and nearly 100 applications to become members of the league will be considered at its next meeting.

Executive officers of the league appeared before the Administrative Board yesterday asking its endorsement of the project before it was presented to the Council. They were assured that the board would assist them but no promises, members said, could be made. The board was asked to secure the cost of the bridge at approximately $300,000. The Virginia Railway and Power Company has agreed to dedicate a right of way across Belle Isle, and to give all the stone needed in the construction of the bridge. This offer, bankers of the local credit yesterday, would mean a considerable saving to the city in event that a concrete bridge is constructed.
